

Music in the Stacks: Steve Cheseborough

Steve Cheseborough re-creates the blues and hokum of the 20s and 30s, interspersing the songs with stories, history, and humor. He is a noted authority on blues and is a writer for Living Blues, Acoustic Guitar, Delta and many other newspapers and magazines. He has been featured on Oregon Art Beat and Seattle's Blues To Do TV and is a frequent guest performer/commentator on KMHD's program "River City Juke Joint". He has self-produced four solo albums and was an International Blues Competition Finalist in 2004.

Music in the Stacks is sponsored by Friends of the West Linn Public Library.
